

St Anne's Parish Church of Scotland

Organist and Choirmaster

St Anne's Church, Corstorphine, is seeking to appoint an organist and choirmaster.

St Anne's is a well-established, friendly church, situated in the west of Edinburgh. It benefits from modern, recently upgraded facilities.

The Church has an Arthur Ingram Pipe Organ which is well maintained and has been upgraded since it was first built and installed in 1922. Further details on the organ can be found on our website at www.stannescorstorphine.org.uk/church-organ.html. The Church also has a Petrof Concert Grand Piano, suitable for services and for concert performances.

St Anne's has a tradition of choral music, with a small, dedicated adult choir leading strong congregational participation. The choir meets for practice on Thursday evenings and Sunday mornings before worship, between the months of September and June.

The duties include playing the organ at Sunday morning worship and at other services as required by the Kirk Session, overseeing the management of the choir and choir practices, and liaising with the minister in the development and use of music within worship.

An allowance for the purchase of music for organ and choir is available. The salary is set in accordance with the Scottish Federation of Organists.

For further information on this appointment, please contact the minister, Revd Jamie Griggs at minister@stannescorstorphine.org.uk, manse telephone 0131 447 7063, or at the office on 0131 316 4740. The closing date for applications is Thursday 30th June.
